

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	IX
Introduction	1
1. The Yašts and the Bayān Yašt Nask	1
2. The times for the recitation of Niyāyēš and Yašts	3
3. Description of the manuscript E1	4
4. The history of ownership of the manuscript E1	4
5. Contents of the manuscript E1	6
Index of Texts Contained in E1	51
Abbreviations	54
References	55
Facsimiles	59

Acknowledgements

This facsimile edition of the Khorda Avesta and Yašt Codex E1 from the First Dastur Meherji Rana Library in Navsari (Gujarat, India) would not have been possible without the support of several persons and institutions. First of all, our profound thanks are due to the Trustees of the First Dastur Meherji Rana Library in Navsari for most generously making the manuscript available over the years while this edition was under preparation. Our collaboration started in 2001, when Dastur KOTWAL spent a sabbatical in Cambridge. For funding his stay we are grateful to the Chairman of both the Sir Ness Wadia Foundation and of F.E. Dinshaw Charities (Mumbai), Mr NUSLI WADIA and his co-trustees, and to the then President of the Zoroastrian Trust Funds of Europe (London), Mr DORAB MISTRY and his co-trustees. We also thank the President and Fellows of Clare Hall College for a Visiting Fellowship, which gave a home to Dastur KOTWAL and his family while in Cambridge, and the Trustees of the Ancient India and Iran Trust for providing Dastur KOTWAL with a study in Sir Harold Bailey's library. Mr MEHRABAN ZARTOSHTY generously funded a preliminary restoration of the manuscript, carried out by the late Dr NICHOLAS HADGRAFT (Cambridge).

We acknowledge with thanks financial support towards the production costs and other help received from the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London, and the Freie Universität Berlin: Mr GLENN RATCLIFFE (SOAS) photographed the manuscript, Mrs NANCY NAUMANN digitized the slides, and Mr CLAUDIUS NAUMANN (both Berlin) prepared a camera-ready copy. We are grateful to Professor MARIA MACUCH for accepting this work in her series Iranica and to the Council of Corpus Inscriptionum Iranicarum for agreeing to a co-publication. Low-resolution images of the facsimiles will be available in electronic form on the website of the Institut für Iranistik (Institute of Iranian Studies) of the Freie Universität Berlin (www.fu-berlin.de/iranistik).

We dedicate this volume to the memory of the First Dastur Meherji Rana of Navsari.

February 2008

ALMUT HINTZE
Cambridge

FIROZE M. KOTWAL
Mumbai