

What was Philology in Arabic?

Arabic-Islamic Textual Practices in the Early Modern World

Participants

ASAD Q. AHMED, University of California, Berkeley
CHRISTOPHER BAHL, SOAS, University of London
JONATHAN BROWN, Georgetown University
LARA HARB, Princeton University
KONRAD HIRSCHLER, Freie Universität Berlin
SHAMIL JEPPIE, University of Cape Town
AHMAD KHAN, Universität Hamburg
JOSÉ MARTÍNEZ DELGADO, Universidad de Granada
MARIA MAVROUDI, University of California, Berkeley
BILAL ORFALI, American University of Beirut
RIDWAN AL-SAYYID, Higher Institute for Islamic Studies, Beirut
KATHRYN A. SCHWARTZ, Harvard University
AHMED EL SHAMSY, University of Chicago
ADAM TALIB, Durham University
TORSTEN TSCHACHER, Freie Universität Berlin
MYKHAYLO YAKUBOVYCH, The National University of Ostroh Academy

International Conference
13-15 July 2017

Venue
Lecture Hall -1.2009
Freie Universität Berlin
Fabeckstraße 23-25, 14195 Berlin

Contact
Prof. Dr. Islam Dayeh
Seminar für Semitistik
und Arabistik
Freie Universität Berlin

For registration and programme:
www.geschkult.fu-berlin.de/whatwasphilology

The Conference is organised by the Dahlem International Network Junior Research Group "Arabic Philology and Textual Practices in the Early Modern Period" (Prof. Dr. Islam Dayeh, Colinda Lindermann, Rossella De Luca, Katharina Kloss). It is supported by:

Forum
Transregionale
Studien

DFC

الفيلاولوجيا العربية الإسلامية
بعد حقبة التأسيس